Lunacore Photoshop Training - Drawing/Painting E1

- 1 Click on the image in the layers palette and drag and drop it on the New Layer icon.
- 2 With this new layer selected, select High Pass... and enter for radius a value of 1.5.
- 3 With this same layer selected, go to the menu and select Film Grain.
- 4 With this layer still active, we change its blending mode to Overlay.
- 5 Now make the background layer active.

- 1 Duplicate the original layer.
- 2 Click Poster Edges. Set the contour thickness according to your taste.
- 3 Click the left-side icon at the bottom, and from the Sketch menu in the middle, select Graphic Pen. Choose Right Diagonal for the stroke direction. Click the icon at the lower left again, and select the opposite direction.
- 4 Click the original Background layer. Use the Cutout feature on that layer.
- 5 On the Layers palette, set the blending mode to Hard Light. Double-click the
